

WOMEN VS. ECONOMY IS PROBLEM FACED BY ARMY-NAVY CLUB

All Absorbing Topic Splits
Ranks of Members Into
Two Factions.

SPECIAL MEETING IS SET FOR TONIGHT

Trouble Over Accommodations for Wives and Sweethearts in New Quarters.

Do women and economy join hands? This question, which has puzzled philosophers for centuries, is now the all-absorbing topic of the members of the Army and Navy Club. In fact, the question of women and economy going together has divided the members into two factions—one working for the women, while the other is working for economy.

It all came about over the building of the club's new home. The older members—those who have had to meet bills when the funds in the treasury were low—want the club erected on an economical basis as is consistent with its dignity, while a younger set, on the other hand—those who have not yet had to contend with the non-payment of dues and all of those little annoying things which beset a board of governors—are anxious that the club's new home be an elaborate affair.

So the club members are divided, and in that division the question of having separate accommodations for the wives, daughters, and sweethearts of the army and navy officers has just come to the front, and is an important factor in the deliberations of those into whose hands the style of club house, its furnishings and accommodations has been, or eventually will be, left.

Special Meeting.
The matter will come up at the meeting tonight. Rear Admiral N. E. Mason, president of the club, was asked to call a special meeting which he has done, and at 8 o'clock tonight a thrashing out of the whole thing will begin. Not a member doubts but that the question will be satisfactorily settled, although every one realizes that all cannot be pleased. And then the women: how do they feel about it? Some have been so bold as to whisper to their dearest friends that they don't care, while others maintain that it is a shame to treat the opposite sex with so little consideration. The women, themselves, have not spoken outwardly about it, but it is whispered in army and navy circles that they know the men who don't want them to jointly enjoy the club.

Unique Arguments.
Various interesting arguments are being advanced by those who are classed as opposing the women, when in reality what they want to do is to keep down the expense for the present, at least. They are offering such ungalant objections as these:

"What is a club for if it isn't for a man to get away from his wife for an hour or two in the evening?"

Then some women are good politicians, and they might enlighten too much the election of the board of governors with their—this under their breath—petulant politics. Such things as that would disturb the serenity and peace of any one's club.

Then the club expense would be greatly increased, if not doubled. A man can't keep his wife from signing checks for refreshments, just as he does. Then there is one more thing, what chance has a fellow, they say, of indulging in a sociable game of cards (not poker, of course) if one's wife is next door?

The women are not saying much; but they are keeping pretty close tabs on where the line is divided, and it is rumored, unofficially of course, that they know the name of the member who is opposing their being granted club privileges.

REAL ESTATE VETERAN CLAIMED BY DEATH

The death of William H. Barstow, at his home 19 Quincy place northeast, Monday, removes from the District one of its veteran real estate men. Mr. Barstow was a native of Hanover, Mass., where he was born in 1838. He came to Washington thirty-one years later, and engaged in the real estate business, which he followed for more than forty years. He was a member of several fraternal organizations, including the Scottish Rite Masons. He is survived by a wife and five children.

A Good Cough Mixture.

Simple Home-made Remedy Free
From Opium and Harmful Drugs.

An effective remedy, that will usually break up a cold in twenty-four hours and quickly relieve the most irritating cough, is easily made at home by mixing together in a large bottle, 2 ounces of glycerine, a ½ ounce of virgin oil of pine, and 8 ounces of pure whiskey. Shake well and take a teaspoonful every four hours. The necessary ingredients are inexpensive and can be bought in any good drug store.

This formula is the one used and recommended for many years by the late Dr. W. A. Leach, founder of the Leach Chemical Co., Cincinnati, O., in whose laboratories the genuine virgin oil of pine is compounded.

TACKS ARE USED AS SUIT OF ARMOR

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 22.—Wearing a suit of armor composed of sharp ends of tacks pointing outward, and carrying a large butcher knife, Harry B. Griswold, recently released from an insane asylum, made an attack upon Policeman Foye, for which he is today resting in the city jail. He will probably be returned to the asylum. After a short but strenuous struggle, in which he was badly punctured by the tacks, the policeman secured the butcher knife, but Griswold was taken to the city jail wearing his armor. It is estimated that he had 4,000 tacks in his armor.
